Invocation

*A Growing Up Prayer
(for the Mother and Child within us all)*

I am wrong often.
I know little.
I ache always.

Even in the stiffness,
With age, I realize:
The trick is in the opening and the flow.

It's like the first time I watched my mother cry,
Turning away,
Shielding her sobs from my gaze,
Saying, "I'm just sad,"
As she leaned over a scorching pan and stirred the rice.

I saw her as a pillar of salt,
Lot's Wife remixed and radiant in Marimekko,
But she didn't turn back and look at me,
her curious little child-shaped Sodom,
until she'd completely poured herself out.

By the time we ate,
She had pulled herself together, sure she'd escaped me,
But the flavors of dinner popped like never before and I could lovingly name every delicious, tear-peppered burst.

As you're witnessing yourself,
Don't forget to allow yourself to be witnessed.
There is no right way to be seen.
You don't have to be completely consumed.
You need not worry about any spills.
Just allow the world to taste and bring your whole savory self as this holy pot fills.

Amen

Opening Song

We Greet This Day

1. We greet this day with joy, Though grief might hush our voi - ces.
 2. We greet this day with hope, Though doubt might cloud our vi - sions.
 3. We greet this day with care, Though pain saps our at - ten - tion.

When sor - row blurs the way, We still have breath and choi - ces.
 When fear fouls up the path, We still can make de - ci - sions.
 When wounds weigh down the world, We still can dare as - cen - sion.

11

As long as we're a - live, Our cy - cles can bend and break.
 If we can stop the noise, New thres-holds will soon ap - pear.
 The dis - cord of our past Is hea - vy with hate and wrongs.

16

So co - cre - ate with trust And sim - ply stay a - wake.
 So pause this pre - sent course, And sim - ply be right here.
 But we've still got to - day. Let's fill it with new songs.

Ancient Testimony

The Gospel According to Matthew 28: 16-20

The eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. When they saw him, they worshiped him, but they doubted. And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age."

Judson's current Mission, Values, & Vision Statement

MISSION

Judson Memorial Church seeks to be a just, diverse, vibrant, and worshipping spiritual community through the pursuit of social justice, creative expression, and sacred exploration of its own Protestant church roots and the wisdom of other traditions.

VALUES

A Place for Spiritual Curiosity: Judson approaches faith not as a monolithic or unchanging set of beliefs but rather as a continual process of action, revelation and exploration. Asking difficult and inconvenient questions of our beliefs and spiritual traditions, and the person of Jesus, is in and of itself a core tenet of faith at Judson.

Sacred and Profane: At Judson, it is often said that we hold artists as our modern-day prophets, who not only show us who we are, but what we might become. We find sacred meaning in all parts of life, from the divine to the secular, from ancient scripture to musical theatre.

Body and Soul: We concern ourselves with more than the soul; the body is of equal concern. Whether it is bodily autonomy, racial liberation, freedom of sexual or gender expression, or accessibility-- the physical presence of every person in and beyond our community and their ability to enter, move through, and occupy the spaces we create are of paramount importance.

Outward and Upward: Since its founding, Judson has maintained deep connections with the civic, political, and social movements outside its walls. Engaging with the world outside of church is not only critical to staying relevant, but it is also how we practice our faith. As Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel said, we pray with our feet. In the world, the service begins.

VISION

A Bend Toward Justice: We envision a world where all people are free to pursue their true purpose, unencumbered by human-made limitations imposed because of who they are, who they love, or what they do.*

Down to Earth: We envision a physical space for Judson Memorial Church that is fully accessible to everyone, a staff that is fully resourced to support the programs that express Judson's values and mission, and a congregation that is a justice-seeking, creative, and thriving spiritual community. With these, we recognize that we have a special responsibility to advocate for the Earth so that all may thrive in sustained harmony.

*As an Open, Welcoming, and Affirming church, we assert that all are entitled to rights, freedoms, and justice, without distinction of any kind, such as race, ethnicity, gender expression, physical capacity, sexual expression, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth, or other status.

~ CELEBRATIONS & CONCERNS ~

~Please sit in silent reflection, or raise up a prayer for a concern or thanks via the podium/the chat~

{A moment of silence for all the unrest happening domestically and worldwide}

Continued prayers of celebration for Marlyn Klee's grand-nephew, Jacob Thompson, move to into a Transitional halfway house where, under lighter supervision, he will be able to work and earn money, have visitors. He will be released from the Ohio prison system entirely in October 2024. Deepest thanks to Judson folks for their prayers for him.

Condolences to the GLIDE Memorial Church congregation and the family of Reverend Cecil Williams, on Rev. Williams' death in his home in San Francisco on April 22. For more than 60 years, Reverend Williams expanded the limits of spirituality, compassion and diversity as Co-Founder and Minister of Liberation of GLIDE in San Francisco.

Suresh Dianand continues to ask for prayers for his Aunt Joyce who is recovering from hip and brain surgery. She has been moved back to the rehab center.

Please continue to pray for Eugene Bailey, Valerie Holly's nephew; for Susan Julia; for rodneyabrown; for Joey Wysokowski.

~May prayers, positive energy, love and light continue to be lifted up~

Prayers of love and light as we remember loved ones who are now Home. Wherever a beautiful soul has been, may there be an abundance of beautiful memories. Ase. Amen.

Prayers for those facing transition with a loved one no matter the phase of it they may be in.

All of us at Judson continue to send strength and energy to all who are in Haiti.

May every student, parent, guardian, faculty, staff, and member of the wider school community be safe, well, and blessed SY23-24.

Let us pray for all internally displaced people and all people in conflict zones around the world. Prayers for peace.

May we all continue to pray and work on being safe as we continue in the phases of this pandemic.
